DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This Queen Anne style building is five stories high and four bays wide. It is a masonry Structure, laid in common bond, with stone trim.

The first story has been completely altered, and presents an unbroken front of sheet glass windows and doors surrounded by metal siding.

All windows are double hung with one-over-one lights and one piece transoms. The last windows on either end of the facade differ from story to story in the kind of arches which the windows are set. In the second story, it is segmental, with straight bond brickwork; the third has flat arches of stone; the fourth has beveled flat arches; and the fifth has round arches of straight bond. All windows, in both outer and inner bays, have stone sills.

Inner bay windows are closely grouped, recessed from the outer bays, and are set in flat arches decorated with swags and rosettes. The middle mullion is a truncated, unfluted, Ionic-capped column. This sets on a large dado, and is topped by a block of the same size.

Above the fifth story windows are a row of terra cotta panels containing foliate motifs, and a dentil row. A small frieze, topped by a blank pediment and flanked by scrolls and finials mounted on stone blocks, completes the facade.
